LIVING TOGETHER

NSL identifies emerging leaders in Palestinian and Israeli society. Delegates come from diverse political, religious, and professional backgrounds. NSL provides the tools for them to create a new story of economic, political, and social change.

COLLABORATING ON SOCIAL IMPACT PROJECTS

Every summer for seven weeks, delegates live in Palestinian-Israeli pairs with American host families, sharing the stories of their realities back home. NSL delegates participate in work-placements on Capitol Hill. Congressional offices that have served as work placements for our delegates include, Sen Chris Van Hollen, Rep. Alexandria Ocasio Cortez, Rep. Rashida Tlaib, Chairman Ted Duetch, Rep. Ilhan Omar and more.

REGIONAL PRESENCE

Each delegate arrives in Washington, DC with a proposed Project for Change (PFC). Each project must demonstrate a proven social impact that challenges the status quo of the region and shows the delegate to be a leader. Upon their return, with seed money provided by NSL, they implement these social impact projects creating a real impact on the ground.
